Chapter 9: Developing Yourself

Share Your Reflections with Ezra

Write a message to Ezra Stoker-Graham with your reflections on how he learned to negotiate the curriculum to respect the children's themes as well as overcome the barriers to an emergent approach in "When Teachers Are Supported, the Amazing Will Happen."

Consider including your thoughts about the following:

- What aspects of Ezra's journey helped him cultivate his passion for his work and overcome the challenges to child-centered practices?
- How did collaboration with his coworkers support Ezra in his work?
- What insights has Ezra discovered about the importance of teachers having freedom to think, plan, and make decisions about their work?
