

Story Dictation

Foreword	ix
Acknowledgments	xi
All Ears: Listening to the Stories of Young Children	1

Part 1: Why We Do Story Dictation

1	Why We Tell Stories	7
2	Why We Do Story Dictation	15
3	How Young Children Tell Stories	23

Part 2: The Nuts and Bolts of Story Dictation

4	Story Dictation Basics	35
5	Story Dictation in Groups	49
6	Building on Children's Stories	57
7	Sharing Stories in the Classroom and with Parents and Families	75
8	Using Stories for Assessment	81

Part 3: Interpreting Children's Stories

9	Searching for Meaning	95
10	Funny Stories	109
11	Stories about Conflict	115
12	Gender and Culture in Stories	127
13	When Children's Stories Cause Concern	137

Conclusion: Readers and Writers of the Future	147
---	------------

Appendix A: Instructions for Volunteers	151
Appendix B: Story Dictation Information for Parents and Families	154
Appendix C: Recommended Reading	157
References	160