

ELEMENTS OF FOCUSED EXPLORATION

- Exploration focuses on water flow, drops, and sinking and floating
- School and neighborhood walkabouts heighten awareness of water in everyday life
- Books and visiting experts stimulate exploration and thinking
- Two- and three-dimensional representation as well as movement supports reflection on work
- Science talks allow for sharing experiences, ideas, and formulating new theories